BY Death deprived of Parents, and from their native Land far remote, is surely a laudable Act; and so far only as relates to Enquiry and giving Notice, is humbly requested, by

who relates, That his Father, Mother, and four Children came from Germany, fourteen or fifteen Years past: And, that the Cause of their coming was, a certain Uncle of his, CHRISTOPHER-HENRY HAPPOLD, had removed from Germany to Carolina, some Time before; from whence he acquainted his Father and Mother, by Letter, that he had acquired a good Estate, inviting them to come to him, and he would give them some Assistance; upon which Encouragement they entered on their Journey, but when they came to the Place for Shipping, no Passage offering to Carolina, they therefore embarked for New-York, where his Mother died a few Months after their Arrival, and his Father a Year or two after, so that they were left Orphans, incapable of enquiring after their Uncle.—Another Uncle of said Bour's, living in Germany, informed him, by Letter, in 1764, that his said Uncle, Christopher-Henry Happold, lived about Charles-Town, in South-Carolina, but was dead, and had left no Children, and doubtless a considerable Estate, and he thought that the said Bour, had a Right to some Part of it, and urged him to an Enquiry: Therefore, the said Bour requests, that the Inhabitants of South-Carolina, in Compassion for the Hardships of Foreigners, will favour him with some Enquiry into this Matter; and if any Tidings concerning the said Christopher-Henry Happold's Estate, where it is, or whatever occurs concerning it, that they would communicate the same, by a few Lines to THOMAS PEARSALL, Merchant, in New-York, or to the Printer of this Paper.

LONDON, FEBRUARY 8.

IT is confidently asserted, that Lord Mansfield will resign in a few days; and that he will be succeeded by Sir Fletcher Norton, as Chief Justice of the King's bench.

It is said Mr. Cornewall will succeed Sir Fletcher Norton as Speaker. Ever since the compliments paid to Lord Mansfield by Mr. Cornewall in a great assembly, on Mr. Glynn's motion for an inquiry into the conduct of the judges, Mr. Cornewall has been much caressed by the ministry.

FEBRUARY 26.

At the Board of Admiralty held yesterday, orders were given for discharging several sloops and tenders that had been taken up in the Government's service, for the conveyance of men impressed in the different ports.

It is not true that the Right Hon. Lord Lyttelton has accepted any place, or stipulated in any manner for the acceptance of any place whatsoever.

The aversion of the Spaniards to war may be judged of from the following fact: When Mr. Harris, in pursuance of his instructions from Lord Rochford, left Madrid, a general melancholy appeared among all ranks of people. Mr. Potter, soon after Mr. Harris's departure, arrived with the signed declaration, and set out post after him by the way of Barcelona, and overtook him about 70 leagues from Madrid. Mr. Harris took horse, and returned with the utmost expedition. The populace, having had previous notice of his return, met him, to the number of 6000 at least, at the gates, and conducted him, with loud acclamations, to the Palace. Potter, in the mean time, continued his journey by the way of Barcelona. The Conde d'Ariglo, who commands at that place, sent to him upon his arrival, and upon hearing of the certain prospect of the continuation of peace, in an extasy of joy, put his purse, containing 20 pieces, into his hand. The news being communicated to the populace, they assembled together, and testified their joy with bonfires, &c.

We hear a bill will be brought into Parliament this session, for making a canal between the rivers Severn and Thames.

This is the day appointed for the Irish Parliament to be opened, by his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of that kingdom.

The Secretary for a certain department is distinguished among the politicians by the epithet of the Colony-broker.

FEBRUARY 27.

Yesterday, in compliance with an order of the Lords of the Admiralty, the press-warrants from the tenders in the river, and the rendezvous houses at Wapping, &c. were returned to the Admiralty-office.

The wages of seamen in the merchant service has this week fallen 15*s.* per month, on account of press-warrants being recalled.

FEBRUARY 28.

Yesterday the House of Commons went upon the * Nullum Tempus bill. The debates were long and interesting, many speeches were made for and against the intended amendment. At nine o'clock a motion was made for the Speaker to quit the chair, and the house to form itself into a committee; but the previous question being put, the lobby was cleared, and they divided, when Sir James Lowther carried it by nine votes: The numbers were 165 to 155. As the majority were going into the house again, a gentleman, who was no member, and whose name was Hunt, mixed with them and went in. Being almost immediately discovered, he was ordered into custody, and the house divided a second time, when the numbers were 165 to 164. When the division was over, Mr. Hunt was called to the bar of the house, and questioned by the Speaker why he came in. He answered, that he did it for no other reason than in hopes of getting into the gallery. He was then asked, what members he knew? He replied, he was acquainted with several; among others, he was known by Mr. Dunning and Serjeant Glynn, and he ought to be known to the Speaker, for he had been his client upwards of twenty years. The house, considering his coming in as an act of inadvertency, more than any designed offence, he was ordered to be discharged, and then (it being half past eleven) the house broke up.

Yesterday the Earl of Halifax, by his Majesty's command, presented to the Upper-House, a petition of Alexander Lenox, claiming the title of Earl Lenox, and the same we hear is referred to the committee of privileges.

We are told, as an undoubted fact, that the Spanish Ambassador, before any armament was fitted out, made three successive protests against our settling on Falkland's island, and that Lord Weymouth was the person to whom the matter was communicated; that the same nobleman had early intelligence of the Spanish preparations; that Capt. Allen was the person who disclosed the affair; and that Lord Chatham's prophecy was founded on the hints furnished by the same gentleman. What excuse then can be offered for the supine indolence of our Ministry? Had they exerted themselves at the beginning of the affair, we might have saved three millions of money. One advantage, however, we have derived from our expence; we have learned that our navy, the natural bulwark of the island, is as rotten and unfit for use as our Ministry. Lord North is therefore highly commendable for not going to war.

The meeting called Carlton-house Junto is no longer held in Pall-Mall, but at the house of a great Law officer not far from Bloomsbury-square, where a Scotch Lord constantly attends to direct the plans of operations, and is looked upon as the representative of a certain Lady of high quality.

At an entertainment given some nights ago to several members of the Lower Assembly, not far from St. James's-street, the discourse turning upon politics, three of the Court Members who were present, and who are leading men in all the measures of the Ministry, very candidly confessed, that the only reason why Mr. Wedderburne was gained over to their side was, that they wanted a Lawyer in their party to correct the blunders of the Majority in all debates where the law interfered; and that he was pitched upon as the properest and most pliant one they could pick out from the opposition.

The claim of the Sutherland peerage is appointed to come on before the Lords on Wednesday next.

Private letters from abroad mention, that the King of Naples, resolved to shew his relationship both by blood and understanding to the Kings of France and Spain, gave a striking instance of it a few days ago, in diverting himself at a public review, by ordering some of the spectators to be tossed in a blanket.

* That no prescription of time is good against the King——: another law was afterwards passed, establishing the term of prescription upon claims of the crown to 60 years.

The two following important anecdotes are communicated to us by a gentleman juſt returned from Paris.

"1. There is ordered a reduction of nine men in each company of the French army, which will amount in all to 36,000 men; an argument of the ſtrongeſt preſumption in favour of the pacific intentions of that court.

"2. In expectation of the re-eſtabliſhment of the late Parliament, the advocates of Paris ſtill continue to exert both their patriotiſm and courage; and though amounting to upwards of 700, not a ſingle one amongſt them has in any degree conſented, by either public or private application to their profeſſion, to acknowledge the uſurping and illegal tribunal, which has been ſubſtituted, and which ought to perceive by the public odium, their unjuſt and arbitrary appointments. The manner in which theſe advocates mutually aſſiſt each other, as well for its uncommon generoſity, as extreme delicacy, deſerves to be mentioned in your paper; they are divided into three claſſes, of which the firſt, as moſt ſubſtantial, conſigns over to one of their principals, called Baronnier, the ſupply deſtined for the third ſort of their profeſſion, namely, the moſt neceſſitous; from him it is received with ſuch diſcretion, that neither the giver nor receiver can know each other. The middle claſs conſiſts of thoſe who are neither opulent enough to give, nor indigent enough to receive. The procurers or attornies have likewiſe behaved with a ſimilar attachment to the ſame principles, and to this very minute have not proceeded to any legal buſineſs before the new tribunal. By this honourable and reſolute method thoſe gentlemen, whoſe profeſſion is their fortune, have enabled themſelves, without forfeiting thoſe ſentiments, which unanimouſly inſpire them, to expect the re-eſtabliſhment of the Parliament; which muſt inevitably happen, as it is impoſſible to find men ſufficiently abandoned to replace them."

Orders are already given to diſcharge the major part of landmen, and impreſſed ſailors, only keeping the choice and complete mariners to man thoſe ſhips deſtined for foreign ſervice, and guardſhips, at the ſeveral out-port departments in the three kingdoms.

The eſtabliſhment of the army from the 25th of next month is to be the ſame as before the late augmentation, only the ten new companies are to ſtand.

By a gentleman of veracity juſt arrived from France we learn, that there is all the reaſon in the world to believe that a civil war will very ſhortly happen in that kingdom.

The plan now in agitation, of forming a regiment in Great-Britain of 1000 men, with 200 officers, at the ſole expence of the India company, but under the ſole direction and command of the crown, under pretence of a better method of recruiting the forces in India, is thought, by thoſe who have ſeen the draught of the bill, to be the moſt bare-faced glaring job that could be deviſed by a ſhameleſs Miniſtry, and a not leſs confident cabal in the lead of the company's affairs.

Tueſday the order was read in the Houſe of Commons for the attendance of the printers; and upon being called, and not attending, it was moved, "That for their contempt in not obeying the orders of the houſe, for their attendance on the houſe this day, they be taken into cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms attending this houſe, or his deputy." The numbers were, 160 for the motion, and 17 againſt it.

If by any means the printers ſhould be taken into cuſtody by the Serjeant at Arms of the Houſe of Commons, it is ſaid they are determined to bring ſeparate actions againſt that officer for illegally detaining their perſons, and it is thought a London jury will certainly give ample damages.

A warrant is ſigned by the ſpeaker for apprehending the two printers who did not attend on a written order being left at their houſes. They are ſtill, however, we are aſſured, determined to reſiſt, and will not attend unleſs compelled by ſuperior force. An officer from the Houſe of Commons has been after them to day, but we have not yet been able to learn the reſult of his embaſſy.

The following is a liſt of the ſeventeen gentlemen (and the two tellers) who voted againſt taking the printers into cuſtody on Tueſday laſt.

Sir Robert Barnard, Bart.	J. Mauger
N. Bailey, Eſq;	R. Oliver
Colonel Barré	F. Standert
Sir Piercy Brett	Sir George Saville, Bart.
W. Burke	Charles Turner
Rt. Hon. W. Dowdeſwell	R. Whitworth
J. Dunning	Sir Cecil Wray, Bart.
Sir Robt. Clayton, Bart.	TELLERS,
C. W. Cornwall	Alderman Sawbridge
Colonel Jennings	Alderman Townſend.

FEBRUARY 29.

The ſpirit and virtue of the parliaments of France ſhould be a leſſon or inſtruction to all the other parliaments of Europe.

There was a very numerous meeting of the Supporters of the Bill of Rights on Tueſday laſt, when ſeveral ſubſcriptions were paid into the ſociety, in order to complete the payment of the outſtanding debts of John Wilkes, Eſq; and ſeveral reſolutions were agreed to for the ſupport of the cauſe of freedom and independency.

The following very extraordinary and alarming Things are ſaid, viz. That the periodical paper, called The WHISPERER, is not only totally diſavowed by all the ſons of freedom, but that there is great reaſon to think it was ſet up, and is continued, by the enemies to liberty, on purpoſe to diſcredit the freedom of the preſs, and to juſtify the introduction of an accurſed imprimatur.

It is alſo ſaid, that, under pretence of raiſing men for the India ſervice, two thouſand foreign troops are to be introduced in Britain; that this deſign, daring as it is to the liberties of this country, is intended only as an introduction to the next Seſſion of Parliament to two thouſand more; and this again to another two thouſand; and ſo on, till a number of mercenaries is introduced amongſt us ſufficient to render any army of Engliſhmen totally unneceſſary, and ſufficient to enable the ſons of deſpotiſm eaſily to perpetrate their worſt deſigns.

And it is alſo ſaid, (and many are the reaſons aſſigned for ſaying it) that ſuch is the obſequiouſneſs of a certain ſociety to the mandates of power, or ſuch, rather, is it's venality and corruption, that nothing is ſo little attended to by the majority of it's Members, as the intereſts and advantages of thoſe, from whoſe delegation they derive their authority, and for whoſe benefit alone they were originally appointed.—If there be any the leaſt reaſon to give credit to either of theſe reports, (and whether there be, or be not, the public muſt determine) it becomes the duty of every Briton to take the alarm, and ſtand on his guard.

MARCH 2.

Yeſterday after the levee was over at St. James's, the Lords North, Rochford, and Halifax, had a long conference with his Majeſty.

A council is ſummoned to meet this evening at the Secretary of State's office, in Cleveland-Row, at which all the Miniſtry are to attend.

The Houſe of Peers is adjourned till Monday next, as is the Houſe of Commons.

It ſeems to be the general opinion of the nation, That the Houſe of Lords ought not to have the power of arbitrary impriſonment any more than the courts of King's-Bench, or the Houſe of Commons; an article of Magna-Charta having expreſſly and generally condemned the practice in every caſe, without any exception of Lords, much leſs of the Commons, who did not then exiſt.

The two ſpirited Aldermen, Townſend and Sawbridge, will certainly be greater favourites with the public than Wilkes himſelf, if they give a check to the arbitrary and unconſtitutional power claimed at preſent by a certain aſſembly, the power of ſeizing and impriſoning men at diſcretion being more dangerous in ſuch hands than in the hands of the Secretaries of State.

Yeſterday a meſſenger arrived in town with an account of the death of the King of Sweden.

Yeſterday about five in the afternoon, Sir James Macartney, in a poſt-coach and ſix, ſet off for the Court of Madrid.

MARCH 3.

The death of the King of Sweden, which is confirmed by this day's mails, happened ſuddenly in the night on the 13th of February laſt.

It is ſuppoſed, that the Prince Royal of Sweden, and his brother, who are at Paris, and were expected in town the latter end of this month, will return home immediately.

A correſpondent aſſures us, as a certain fact, that Lord Mansfield is at preſent the real Premier; no ſtep, though ever ſo trifling, being taken without his Lordſhip's approbation.

Monday next, it is ſaid, a motion will ſpring from the oppoſition, in the Houſe of Commons, which has been ſome time intended, but prevented by the recent debate on the Spaniſh convention. The Miniſtry themſelves are aware of it, and are preparing to ward off the danger that may be intended by it.

The affairs of America are expected to become the ſubject of parliamentary conſideration ſoon, in conſequence of a motion from the miniſtry.

Two tranſports, with warlike ordnance ſtores, will accompany the men of war now getting ready to ſail for Port Egmont, to take poſſeſſion of Falkland's iſland, on board of which will embark two companies of infantry.

WHITEHALL, March 2. The King having been pleaſed to grant his royal licence to Robert Melville, Eſq; Captain General and Governor in Chief of his Majeſty's iſlands of Grenada, the Grenadines, St. Vincent, and Tobago, in America, to return to this kingdom; his Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint William Leybourne, Eſq; to be Captain General and Governor in Chief of thoſe iſlands, in the room of the ſaid Robert Melville, Eſq;

MARCH 5.

The Minority, notwithſtanding their preſent ſeeming ſupineneſs, we hear, are engaged in important ſchemes, which are kept from tranſpiring with the utmoſt care and circumſpection.

In conſequence of the order lately iſſued by the Houſe of Commons, againſt the publiſhers, for printing the debates of that Aſſembly, the Serjeant at Arms was yeſterday called in, and aſked what ſteps he had taken in regard to the above order; when he ſaid, he had been ſeveral times at the publiſhers houſes, but could not meet with either of them at home. It was then moved, that an humble addreſs be preſented to his Majeſty, to deſire that his Majeſty would be pleaſed to iſſue a Proclamation for apprehending R. Thompſon, and J. Wheble, the two publiſhers.

Sunday Lord Hyde (one of the Minority Peers) gave a ſplendid entertainment to the Earl of Suffolk, Lord North, and many other Noblemen and Gentlemen of the Majority, at his houſe in Upper Groſvenor-ſtreet.

Yeſterday the Lord Chancellor, and his father, paid a viſit to her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Dowager of Wales at Carlton-Houſe.

A letter from Breſt mentions, that orders had juſt been received to unrig ſeveral capital ſhips of war, both there and at Rochfort; but the Toulon ſquadron is to be kept upon a reſpectable footing, while the Ruſſian fleets continue in the Mediterranean.

Four men of war of the Line are ordered to accompany Admiral Montagu to North-America.

Laſt night there was a long debate in the Lower Houſe on the Eaſt-India recruiting bill, Whether it ſhould be committed? When it was carried for committing it, 103, againſt 65. Among the 65, were ſeveral gentlemen, who are very ſeldom known to be together on the ſame ſide of a queſtion, viz. Lord Barrington, Wellbore Ellis, General Harvey, moſt of the army gentlemen, Sir George Saville, J. Calcraft, Eſq; Col. Barré, &c. &c. The majority were led by Meſſrs. Dyſon and Elliot. Lord North was abſent.

MARCH 7.

Extract of a letter from Dublin, February 27, 1771.

"On the 26th our Parliament met, when the forces on both ſides were muſtered; there were more members in the houſe than were ever known on any other occaſion. The queſtion, on the propoſed addreſs, was carried by a majority of 25, in favour of government, to the ſurprize of every body, who have ſo long ſeen the great parties of this country govern this kingdom as they pleaſed.—At this time the great chiefs were all united againſt it, and even preſſed ſome ſervants of the crown to oppoſe it at the hazard of their offices.

"This day however, has afforded an unexpected, though no new ſcene, in this country, for when the Houſe ſhould have proceeded on the uſual buſineſs of the day, ſeveral armed perſons with clubs, cutlaſſes, &c. ſurrounded the Parliament houſe, and attempted to ſwear ſeveral of the members, who very ſpiritedly refuſed the propoſed oath. Upon which they inſulted ſome, and beat others, ſelecting with great nicety the Supporters of Government, from the members in oppoſition. The Biſhops of Ferns and Cork, were both beat and otherwiſe much abuſed. Lord Chief Juſtice Annaly, and Lord Tyrare, were alſo very roughly treated. Lord Loftus was particularly ſearched for, he is marked by the mob for joining government, and deſerting from the patriots.

"Two of the ringleaders armed with cutlaſſes, who attempted to ſwear the Biſhops, with a Manual (or Popiſh prayer-book) were taken and lodged in Newgate, by order of the houſe of Lords."

Such is the indolence of the preſent age that though the Viceroyſhip of Ireland, at the requeſt of the preſent Lieutenant, has been offered to no leſs than ten of the nobility, not one could be found to accept it.

An Engliſh gentleman at Paris writes thus to his friend in London:—"February 27, 1771. The civil liſt in this country has not paid one ſingle creditor ſince the year 1762. Agriculture is ſo ill managed, that bread is double the price it was at in 1763; ſo that it is now at upwards of three ſols and a half per pound; and to crown the work, the other day the Chancellor, eſcorted by the town guards, ſword in hand, went to the parliament, and clipped two thirds of its power, to give it to court bloodſuckers."

MARCH 9.

The following is an authentic copy of the King of Spain's ratification of the late convention.

Tranſlation of his Catholic Majeſty's orders, ſignified by the Bailo Fray Don Julian de Arriaga, to Don Philip Ruez Puente, dated Pardo, 7th of February, 1771.

IT being agreed between the King and his Britannic Majeſty, by a CONVENTION ſigned at London, on the 22d of January laſt paſt, by the Prince of Maſerano and the Earl of Rochford, that the great Malouine, called by the Engliſh Falkland Iſland, ſhould be immediately replaced, in the preciſe ſituation in which it was before it was evacuated by them on the 10th of June laſt year; I ſignify to you, by the King's order, that as ſoon as the perſon commiſſioned by the Court of London ſhall preſent himſelf to you with this, you order the delivery of the Port de la Cruſada, or Egmont, and its fort and its dependencies, to be effected; as alſo that of all its artillery, ammunition, and effects, that were found there, belonging to his Britannic Majeſty and his ſubjects, according to the inventories ſigned by George Farmer and William Maltby, Eſqrs. on the 11th of July of the ſaid year, at the time of their quitting the ſame, of which I ſend you the incloſed copies, authenticated under my hand; and that as ſoon as the one and the other ſhall be effected, with the due formalities, you cauſe to retire immediately the officer, and other ſubjects of the King, which may be there. God preſerve you many years.

Pardo, 7th February, 1771. (Signed)

The Bailo Fray, Don Julian de Arriaga.

To Don Philip Ruez Puente.

Although the above is only a copy of the order for reſtitution, yet it is the only inſtrument which the King of Spain has ſent to our Court; and it has been accepted as a full ratification.

Whatever reports are propagated to the contrary, by the ſelf-intereſted or inviduous, it may be depended on, that the Spaniards have abſolutely begun, and continue to reduce their military and marine forces to the ſtate in which they were before the proſpect of a diſpute with us. The miniſtry are truly ſenſible of this fact, and are at this time poſſeſſed of an exact ſtate of the reduction.

By our laſt letters from Paris we learn, that the French court had reduced nine men out of every company of infantry in the French ſervice. The number of private men thus reduced amounts to ſixteen thouſand. The appointments which were appropriated for the payment of theſe men, are turned over to the marine department, and a new corps of marines, to the amount of that number, is to be inſtantly formed. This plan it ſeems, is projected by the Abbot Terray, and is ſuppoſed to be levelled entirely againſt the marine eſtabliſhment of Great-Britain.

It is ſaid, that a certain patriotic Orator is ſilenced.

Both Houſes of Parliament will, we hear, break up for the Eaſter holidays on Monday the 25th inſtant.

Notwithſtanding the appearance in favour of the India recruiting bill, upon the diviſion the other day, from the oppoſition that was then made, and the intereſt now making, it is imagined, that, upon the ſecond reading, the numbers will be nearly equal, if not a ſuperiority againſt it.

The impreſſing of ſeamen is entirely at an end in this city; and on Tueſday and Wedneſday laſt near a hundred men were diſcharged from the 61ſt regiment: They were each allowed fourteen days pay and a half guinea.

We are informed, by a reſpectable correſpondent, that amongſt the perſons who ſuffered from the populace in Dublin, on a late occaſion, was his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, whom they tumbled in the kennel in ſuch a manner, that his Viceroyſhip, together with his equipage, coachman, and footmen, were covered with mud and flush from noſtril to tail.

Yeſterday nineteen commiſſions of Bankrupts paſſed the great ſeal; and it is a very melancholly reflection to trade in general, that during the courſe of laſt month near ſeventy commiſſions were ſealed. This month ſet out with the proſpect of an equal number.

When the alteration of the eſtabliſhment of the infantry takes place, which will be on the 26th inſtant, a regiment of foot will conſiſt of a Colonel, Lieutenant Colonel, Major, 7 Captains, 12 Lieutenants, 8 Enſigns, one Quarter-Maſter, one Adjutant, a Chaplain, Surgeon, and one Mate, 20 Serjeants, 30 Corporals, 10 Drums, 2 Fifers, and 380 private men.

MARCH 12.

Extract of a letter from Paris, March 1.

"The Edict, Declaration, and Letters Patent which the Chancellor carried to the Palace the 23d of February, were regiſtered upon the firſt requiſition. Fourteen Members of the Council did indeed propoſe to have them laid before a Committee for examination, but the contrary opinion prevailed by a great majority, and they were regiſtered immediately.

"The ſix ſuperior Councils created by the abovementioned Edict, are likely to meet with with ſome difficulties in their eſtabliſhment. Three of them, namely, thoſe of Artois, Blois, and Clermot Ferrand, have Magiſtrates ready; that it is not the ſame with thoſe of Poitiers, Chalons ſur Marne, and Lyons. The intendants of the generalities there, will perform the functions of firſt Preſidents, and they will be aſſiſted by other perſons, whom M. de Maupeou ſhall think worthy to be made Members of theſe Councils.

"The proceedings with reſpect to the Parliament engroſſes all public converſation, and in truth there is nothing ſo intereſting. It was reported yeſterday, that the Great Chamber was recalled to Pontoiſe, and the Courts of Inqueſts and Requeſts to Soiſſons."

The King of Pruſſia has notified in form to the States General, that the reports propagated concerning his deſigns upon Dantzic, and a part of Poland, are void of all foundation; that the great force which he has ſpread along the confines of Poland, was merely to prevent a communication of the plague, and that his views are, in all reſpects, pacific.

The friends of liberty obſerve, with the utmoſt concern, the preſent diſſentions among the members of the oppoſition, and the bitter ſarcaſms which they publicly throw out againſt each other.—A few nights ago, in the Houſe of Commons, Mr. Burke ſaid, "That Sir William Meredith reſembled the pendulum of a clock, vibrating between miniſtry and the oppoſition."

When Lord Cheſterfield was aſked, what he thought of the late Spaniſh negociation, he replied, "I think it is very like Spaniſh ſnuff; it irritates the noſtrils of our politicians; they ſneeze copiouſly, wipe their noſes, and pocket the affront."

We are aſſured from the beſt authority, that the Premier has declared, within theſe few days, on hearing of the late ſudden fall of the funds, that, "however the too credulous part of "mankind choſe to let themſelves be gulled out of their property, "through the groundleſs fears, and the wicked arts made uſe of "by harpies, to take advantage of the real monied people, matters were now ſettled on ſo reſpectable and firm a baſis, that, "to all human appearance, there was not the ſhadow of a reaſon, "to ſuppoſe the public tranquility could be diſturbed again, by "any real cauſe, for many years to come."

CHARLES-TOWN, MAY 2.

LAST Friday arrived here His Majesty's Packet-Boat Sandwich, in nine Weeks and four Days from Falmouth: In which came Passenger William-Henry Drayton, Esquire, of this Province; who, it is said, is appointed one of His Majesty's Assistant-Judges, and to have a Seat at the Hon. Council-Board. The other Assistant-Judges are said to be, John Murray, Esq; M. D. another Gentleman of North-Britain, and a Mr. Edward Savage. A Confirmation of the Appointment of Robert Knox Gordon, Esq; (late Counsellor at Law in Dublin) to be Chief-Justice of this Province, is come in the said Packet-Boat.

It is thought the Circuit-Courts in this Province may be opened in November next; by which Time all the new Judges may take their Seats.

We are told that the Right Hon. Lord Charles-Greville Montague, Governor in Chief, &c. of this Province, was to leave England about the Middle of March, to return to his Government, by Way of Boston.

On Monday last arrived here His Majesty's Packet-Boat the Comet, commanded by Capt. Tho. McDonogh, from Pensacola.

On Tuesday returned from London, in the Africa, Captain Carmichael, Messrs. Nathaniel Stott, and William Heft, Merchants of this Town.

The General Assembly of this Province, according to their last Adjournment, are to meet here on Tuesday next.

The Variety of Reports that prevailed for near a Fortnight before the Publication of our last, in Regard to War and Peace, had nearly the same Effect on the Price of Rice here, as on the Stocks at Home, which was scarce two Days together the same, first rising from 40*s.* to 45*s.* then falling to 40*s.* then rising and falling again; but now it seems fixed at 47*s.* 6*d.* per Hundred Weight, Cash, and 50*s.* is demanded by many.

The Quantity cleared since the 1st of November last, is 87,079 Tierces.
